ROOSEVELT MAN SENT SOUTH

To Quell Political Revolt in That Section

HARMONY IS WANTED

The President Takes Assistant Postmaster-General From Public Duties to Do Political Service.

Washington, April 22.—A political sensation has been created here by the discovery that Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster-general, has been sent on tour through the south for the purpose of rounding up the organization politicians and determining how serious is the opposition in that section to Roosevelt's control of the national convention of 1908.

The first intimation that Mr. Hitchcock had been detached from his official duties by the president and sent on a purely political mission came in despatches from Atlanta and other southern cities where Mr. Hitchcock is holding long consultations with federal office-holders and other republican politicians.

For a long time it has been known that the policy pursued by President Roosevelt was not acceptable to any of the southern factions. There has been special protest against the apparent disposition of the administration to recognize the comparatively small group of white republicans, while ignoring the large number of black republicans there. It is pointed out that in spite of disfranchisement laws in most of the southern states the black members of the party are greatly in excess of the white, and the former protest vigorously at being excluded from participating in its policies.

For some time it has been self-evident that the president is going to spare no opportunity to use patronage power in all parts of the country to further his political plans.

The defiance of the Wadsworth faction in New York, the demand for the resignation of Internal Revenue Collector Sanders, at Rochester, because he has been unfavorable to the policies of Gov. Hughes, the announcement that Hughes will be the dispenser of administration patronage in the Empire state, the appointment of Pease Wright as republican "boss" in Louisiana, and now the sensational development that Mr. Hitchcock has been sent to Georgia to quell the insurrection there and that he will also investigate conditions in South Carolina and Florida before his return, all point to the conclusion that an aggressive warfare has already been opened by the administration and that its opponents will be kept exceedingly busy from this time on.

SCHOOL MA'AM GAVE BANDITS A SURPRISE

Threw One Armed With a Revolver Out of Her Schoolhouse—Other Fled.

Derby, Conn., April 22.—The farmers of Oxford are searching the neighborhood for two young bandits who terrorized the scholars of a district school there and caught a teacher in their teacher, Miss Mary Tucker.

The school was interrupted Friday afternoon by loud knocks at the school-room door. When Miss Tucker opened it she was confronted by two young men, who pushed their way in. One flourished a revolver and the other ordered the teacher and pupils to throw up their hands.

The children huddled themselves in a corner of the room, but the teacher grabbed the youth with the revolver and hustled him out of the door while the other looked on with amazement. The latter did not wait to be thrown out.

When the door was closed the bandit who had the revolver fired several shots at the door and the other pelted the building with stones.

Miss Tucker lowered a couple of the oldest scholars out of a window and sent them for assistance to the nearest house, a quarter of a mile distant. The attacking party saw them cross a lot and gave chase, but a farmer named Mazeran also saw them and with a shotgun started after the pursuers, who fled to the woods and disappeared.

CALLED HIM "BEAST, BRUTE, DOG."

Ohio Women Whip a Farmer For Alleged Cruelty to Wife.

London, Ohio, April 22.—George H. Ward, a prosperous farmer near Racoon, was soundly whipped Saturday by 16 indignant women for his alleged continued whipping of his wife and other cruelties to her. Mrs. Ward died Thursday, and Friday Ward buried her, digging the grave himself to save expense.

The women met at the appointed place and sent to town for buggy whips. When Ward came from the funeral, they pounced upon him and beat him, crying "Beast, brute, dog."

Mrs. Ward, before her death, filed a petition for divorce, alleging cruelty, in that Ward drove her out of her bed and made her feed the stock.

New York, April 22.—District Attorney Jerome Saturday received definite information that the Thaw jury was approached by a policeman, who informed one of the jurors that Thaw's father, William Thaw, was a member of the Mystic Shrine.

Juror Charles E. Newton, himself a Shriner, said today that the remark was made to him, and it is said that the policeman who conveyed the information was also a member of that society.

Mr. Newton said he immediately told all the other jurors what had been said to him.

All the policemen who did duty with the Thaw jury at any time during the trial will be lined up in the district attorney's office on Monday, and Juror Newton will be asked to pick out the man who is alleged to have made the remark.

THREATS AGAINST BINGHAM.

The Police Commissioner Hears That He Is to Be Assaulted.

New York, April 22.—Following the shake-up in the police department Saturday, through which eight inspectors were sent to command precincts as captains, Police Commissioner Bingham announced today that he had been threatened with bodily harm. He declined to say where the information came from, but intimated that he considered the source reliable.

"All I know," he said, "is that one of those gentlemen is reported to have said that he would assault me, or try to assault me, to get even. I have heard this from a source I consider reliable."

The commissioner, invested with greater powers than any other head of the department in years, Saturday continued to shake things up by appointing four new captains—Cornel Leary, Frank H. Bowers, James McCafferty, the new head of the detective bureau, and Thomas Walsh.

There was some discussion in police circles today as to what action the deposed inspectors may take to secure their reinstatement to the rank. It was declared they might attack the validity of the Bingham bill under the Civil Service law.

OLNEY'S CAUSTIC COMMENT

Scores Seizure of Panama Canal Strip

AND DEBT COLLECTING

Address By Former Secretary of State Feature of Meeting of International Law Society.

Washington, April 22.—Richard Olney, who was one of the principal speakers at Saturday's session of the International Law society, criticized President Roosevelt's San Domingo policy, and condemned the taking of the Panama canal strip without compensation to Colombia.

As to Santo Domingo, Mr. Olney said the United States was being made an international debt collecting agency; that the police tended to tyranny and tended to retard rather than advance the progress of international law, which he said was not founded on the will of a Cesar.

Secretary Strauss of the department of commerce and labor presided yesterday and opened the discussion with an expression of hope that if The Hague conference did not reach an agreement as to the limitation of armament among the nations, an understanding would be arrived at.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Not Yet, But Soon."

Given an insane asylum on the Hudson inhabited by all sorts and conditions of dopes, project into this a medley of brainstorms, a hobo who is mistaken for an eminent German specialist, label the entire mixup "Not Yet—But Soon," and you have a rip-snorting and which tore off a number of good songs in the interval between the rapid fire comedy of Hap and his associates. Each year Hap has some little catch word which quickly passes into current history. We all know "I was just going to ask you about that" and "We heard what you said." This time it is "Well, that seems reasonable" and in the song "Things That Happen Every Day," sung by the four leading characters, there was the usual line of quick ones, leading up to the retort courteous.

The chorus is well costumed, but out the principles well and sing a lot of good things. "San Antonio," by Charles Chapman; "O Come My Lou," by Madeline Buckley, and answered by Jack Manley were great.

An enjoyable feature of the show was Lucy Daley's dancing. She is one of the famous Daly sisters, and there are no better dancers than the stage—Holyoke, Mass., Telegram.

Mayor of Tokio Elected.

One of the cleanest and at the same time one of the cleverest comic performances ever seen in Barre was that of Richard Carle's "The Mayor of Tokio" Saturday evening. The management brought along nearly fifty people, some of whom could make you laugh, others of whom could do a fancy step or dance, and all of whom could sing. The combination made a very pleasing entertainment for a good-sized house.

John L. Kearney, the chief comedian as "Marcus Orlando Kidder" was smooth one at his part and kept the audience in a roar whenever he essayed a stunt. Jo Smith Maria as "Rusty" the song boy and Jane Griffith as "Marianne Stitch," wardrobe mistress of the stranded troupe, around which centers the most of the fun, helped lead out a good deal, while the singing of Ada Mitchell added materially to the success of the presentation. The chorus was composed of pretty, tuneful and shapely girls with costumes to match. Altogether it was a company who would be gladly welcomed again.

KING EDWARD THOUGHT FORMING ALLIANCE

Meetings With Kings of Italy and Spain Stir Up European Cabinets.

Berlin, April 22.—The tour of King Edward and his meetings with the Kings of Italy and Spain have stirred up the cabinets of Europe to a considerable degree.

There is a strong belief that King Edward is perfecting new alliances and that the outcome will have a marked effect on the politics of the continental powers. The feeling here is that the new moves will prove detrimental to Germany's interests.

comely cackle which nearly tickled to death an audience at the Holyoke opera house last night.
